

Family update #155

April 14, 2022

Dear family and friends,

COVID Update

We are grateful that all our residents are doing well. Many of the affected residents have recovered and are now out of isolation. We will continue to follow up on their well-being with continuous assessment. At present we have 19 residents on the second floor and 8 residents on the fifth floor of Wing Kei Crescent Heights in isolation per MOH COVID isolation orders.

Visitation

Just a reminder that only essential visits are allowed on the second floor and fifth floor of Wing Kei Crescent Heights. We also recommend that visitation be limited to essential visits on the remaining floors, as a precautionary measure. On Good Friday, April 15, reception at both locations are closed. Visitation hours are from 9 am to 4 pm.

University of Alberta Post COVID Study

The University of Alberta is currently carrying out a provincial Post COVID Study with support from AHS and Alberta Health. The study will focus on a range of mental health, quality of life, and physical impacts related to accessing testing, receiving care, and the long-term sequelae of those who tested positive. The survey is open to LTC/DSL residents who tested positive or negative. If your loved one is interested to participate with family support, please click here for more information about the study.

Special Easter Presentation by Greenview Residents

To remember the unconditional love of Jesus and His sacrifice for us, the residents on second floor of Greenview Supportive Living would like to share a very special Easter Presentation called "Lily". The song talks about the beauty of lily flowers blooming in the spring and the glory of Jesus who resurrected in the spring. Please click here and enjoy!

Stay Safe

Chief Public Health Officer Dr. Theresa Tam confirmed on Tuesday that Canada is in a sixth wave of COVID-19. The number of COVID cases and hospitalizations in Alberta are on the rise again. We must therefore continue to follow all preventative measures to keep ourselves, our residents and people around us safe, especially when considering gatherings during the Easter holidays.

God bless and have a happy Easter!

Now may the Lord of peace Himself give you peace at all times and in every way.

The Lord be with all of you.

~ 2 Thessalonians 3:16

With gratitude,
Kathy Tam
